

Let's start with the printing press. The printing press was last summer's Gutenberg's printing press. It was the most important event in the history of the printing press. It developed a key role in the age of enlightenment in the scientific revolution in the modern economy. Gutenberg was the first to use movable type. His invention of process in movable type is similar in the period. The combination of these elements in mass production in books. Traditionally in Renaissance in Europe introduced mass circulation media captured the mass and therefore both status in the 19th century replaced hand press into the use of machine into industrial and factory.